

WP3: Developing the guidelines

Discussion points

- What are the guidelines for? For whom? – teacher, teacher trainers and institutions
- How will they be used? – As a resource for teacher trainers and teachers giving online courses
- What will they look like - ? (a searchable, interactive resource?)
- Discussion on the matrix
- Measurable indicators

Approach

- Focusing on a limited number of key issues
- Through a discussion driven analyzation find different perspectives of key issues to form a matrix, finding the teachers view reflecting the students
- Formalize matrix into guidelines as a resource for teacher trainers and teachers giving online courses
- Learning is communication and learning is doing

Key issues

Need input from WP1 and 2

- | | |
|------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|
| ■ Establish acceptance | ■ Didactical/pedagogical point of view |
| ■ Student perspective | ■ Level of knowledge |
| ■ Assessments | ■ Train for the future |
| ■ Collaboration | ■ Evaluation and feedback |
| ■ Technology and tools | ■ Quality |
| ■ How do teachers learn themselves | ■ ... |

Perspectives

Needs input from WP1 and 2

- Culture
- Field of subject
- Student perspective
- Didactical/pedagogical point of view
- Socio-economic context
- ...

Matrix: Issues with perspectives

Issue Persp.	Establish accept.	Asses- ments	Tools	Quality
Culture	Examples Resources
Student persp.
Didacti-cal view

Activities

- Ongoing discussion forum which should lead to the content of the matrix – using mailing list from the start and CorsiOnline when it is adjusted to our needs (end of February?)
- Collecting existing guidelines from each partner for inspiration (usually not translated but pros and cons can be extracted and discussed)

Milestones

1. Existing guidelines collected (March)
2. Key issues defined (WP1,2) (March)
3. Matrix (result from discussion) (April – June?)
4. Feedback on matrix (May)
5. Formalize the content of the matrix (May-August?)
6. First draft of guidelines (June – September?)